

River of Humanity Flows Past Bier of Unknown Soldier

Great Rotunda of Capitol Flooded With Flowers Evident Nation's Sorrow

Last Rites Today

War Hero Will Be Laid to Rest in Arlington, With Country's Honored Dead

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 10.—A river of humanity, men, women and children, flowed all day today and far into the night past the bier of the dead soldier under the great dome of the capitol. It flowed as the life blood of the nation itself—a slow but overwhelming current of human emotions gathered to attest the valor of America's dead in France.

From early day until long after darkness, the great stream surged up the eastern front of the rotunda to pass reverently by the casket and its liegemen, motionless as the statues of Lincoln and Grant at the far doorway which looked down upon the moving spectacle.

To one side of the throng that pooled ceaselessly by the flag-draped casket, a second unending ceremonial of honor for the dead went on. There, great men, gathered in Washington to deal with great affairs, came humbly to place their wreaths and roses at the bier. There came comrades, limping from wounds that brought them down in France. There came gray-haired veterans of old wars, moved to do honor to the young, soldierly comrade of the last great struggle; there in ordered course came the ambassadors and the ministers and the special envoys of governments around the world. There were formal services here, always with the shuffling footsteps of the human river beyond musing with the prayers and the chants and the spoken tributes to the dead. There were some, like those wounded boys from France, who stood awed and abashed at the solemn majesty that had come to this comrade.

Gold Star Mothers Present.

Some, too, black-gowned women, many bowed and gray with age and sorrow and all wearing in pride the golden star that tells of a son who died "over there." They brought all ways with their flowers the great tributes that bring to this unknown soldier of liberty a message from those comrades whose names stand above all others in the roll of the nation's servants—the great scroll of those of who, like him, died for the flag.

As the hours moved by, the vast reaches of the chamber seemed too small to house the growing mass of flowers. As each cluster was set in place—roses that blossomed in France or England, that bloomed in Canada and South Africa; poppies that thrived up their slender stems through blood-drenched Flanders fields; and flowers of every color and hue that blossom under American skies—the air grew heavy with the fragrance.

Soldier guards stepped out to move each tribute after it had been set, and the long, rounded sweep of granite wall was banked with wreaths and greens over its whole length and every vantage point over the stone floor held its weight of beauty, its share of honor "for the dead."

Britain Pays Its Tribute.

A few minutes of noon the British delegation, led by Earl Beatty, Arthur Balfour and Ambassador Goddes, marched into the rotunda from the north entrance. An officer of the guard approached the catafalque, holding aloft a huge wreath. As the offering from the British empire was placed at the side of the coffin, the earl, the former premier and the ambassador stepped back and a Scot, his head held high, moved forward with the first tribute from the British possessions. Next came the wreath from Newfoundland, carried by a sturdy son of the north, and then the tribute from Canada, placed by Sir Robert Borden, former premier of the Dominion. A son of India, wearing a silk turban, and representatives from every land over which the Union Jack waves brought their floral tributes.

The entire British tribute completely covered one side of the coffin, hiding it from view.

A wreath from King George was among them. Lord Cavan acting for the king.

It bore the legend:
"As unknown and yet well known:
As dying and behold we live."
There was a wreath too from Canada, its inscription saying:
"But that which put the glory of grace into
"All that he did was that he did it of pure
"Love to his country."
Tote from Premier Lloyd George said:
"Nameless, yet his name is in each evermore."
And that from India said:
"They never die who die to make life worth living."

Just prior to the appearance of the British, the Boy Scouts marched in, saluted and chanted their oath. The scout wreath carried the legend: "Be prepared."

Throng Closes at Midnight.

Night had fallen before the soldiers and their comrade marines who jointly shared the honor of guarding the resting place of the unknown dead, moved to check the stream of humanity that continued its flow. Another moment, in this great hour of all eternity, had ended for the unknown dead who is known to all the nation. The lights of the vaulted chamber

BORDENS INSIST ON 'OPEN SHOP'

Reject Health Commissioner's Plan for Arbitration With Strik- ing Drivers

ISSUE HANGS FIRE

Copeland Institutes Criminal Ac- tion Against Sheffield Farms Company

New York, Nov. 10.—Another hope for early restoration of pre-strike milk delivery service throughout Greater New York went glimmering late today when Patrick D. Fox, president of the Borden Farm Products company, rejected Health Commissioner Copeland's proposal for separate negotiations by the distributing corporations with their striking employees.

Mr. Fox told Dr. Copeland his company would refuse, absolutely, to deal with the milk wagon drivers' union in any way, and it was not prepared to offer a separate contract to the strikers who had been employed in Borden plants. The strikers could return, he said, only on the open shop terms which were being offered to men now being employed to replace the strikers.

Earlier in the day, Loton Horton, president of the Sheffield-Farms company, another large distributing corporation, had agreed to a meeting with representatives of the Sheffield strikers that his company draft a contract, to be offered independently to the Sheffield strikers' union.

Air of Pessimism.

Although Dr. Copeland maintained there was a possibility the contract would be found acceptable by the strikers, there was a distinct air of pessimism about his offices regarding this offer. It was regarded as significant that shortly after the close of the Borden conference, Dr. Dr. Copeland ordered a criminal action against the Sheffield Farms company for the alleged sale of stale milk. Earlier, he had indicated the action would be held up pending the outcome of his latest proposals to end the strike and that it possibly would be dropped altogether, if the strike were quickly ended.

Altogether, the most hopeful development from the standpoint of a resumption of milk service was the attitude of the strikers' representatives at the Sheffield conference. The 16 men stuck, even when Mr. Horton insisted on the exclusion of Fred J. Sully, president of a local of the milk drivers' union, on the ground that he would deal only with Sheffield men. This was taken by Dr. Copeland as an indication that the men were in a conciliatory frame of mind and would be willing to accept a less favorable settlement than they demanded at the outset—when it was a question of union recognition and more pay or strike.

Attorneys representing 17 milk companies in Brooklyn appeared before Supreme Court Justice Kelly today and secured an order, returnable next Monday, against the striking milk drivers. The order acts as a temporary injunction preventing the strikers from interfering with the delivery of milk.

It is charged in the complaint that the strikers have committed acts of violence and have intimidated many employees of the companies. A large number of alleged acts of violence are cited. The order is directed against three local milk drivers' unions.

PHONE SERVICE TO BE PROBED

Public Service Commission Will Conduct Sweeping Investiga- tion of Big Company

TO ADJUST RATES

"Company-Wide" Basis Will Be Substituted for "Local Area" System

New York, Nov. 10.—The public service commission announced today that it would conduct a sweeping investigation of the New York Telephone company, beginning in Albany, November 22, for the purpose of establishing equitable rates for telephone service throughout the state on a "company-wide" basis instead of the "local area" system. Representatives of every municipality with cases pending before the commission against the company will be invited to attend.

The action of the commission was taken, a statement said, "in order to facilitate the settlement of some 135 cases representing complaints to the former public service commission, according to district, by various municipalities in the state against the New York Telephone company, and to relieve the taxpayers and subscribers of the company from the enormous expense of having valuations made of the company's property in each 'local area.' In other words, the commission will take into consideration the investment of the telephone company in the state in a basis for fixing rates instead of the investment in each municipality."

Expensive Probe Resultless.

An opinion prepared by Commissioner Charles G. Blakeslee of Binghamton and the other commissioners, stated that the results obtained in the Buffalo and Syracuse telephone cases, occupying over two years with large expenditure of money, were of comparatively little value in so far as they affect disposition of the 135 pending cases.

It is apparent, therefore, the opinion added, "if these cases are heard separately, it will be several years before they are finally disposed of." "In order to determine these pending cases and to provide against the recurrence of such an impossible state of affairs, a comprehensive plan for the equitable and prompt disposition of these cases and a final decision of the disputed facts which underlie all of them must be had."

The New York Telephone company, the commission stated, either directly or through subsidiary companies, own and operate 95 per cent. of the telephones in the state.

Among the numerous subjects to be investigated by the commission are:

The relationship between the New York Telephone company and the American Telephone and Telegraph company; the contract rates, benefits and obligations upon either side and the services received by either from the other, with the amounts paid therefor.

The relationship between the Western Electric company and the New York Telephone company, directly or through the American Telephone and Telegraph company, or their subsidiaries.

Publicity campaign expenses of the New York Telephone company or its subsidiaries, the reason for them and the method of conducting them since January 1, 1913.

The wage scale of the company, now and heretofore in force, the basis thereof and adjustments or modifications necessary on amounts expended by the company for adaptation to present and future conditions.

Eastern Roads Plan Ten Pct. Cut in Pay of Million Workers

Similar Reduction in Freight Rates Will Follow, Rail Execu- tives Declare

Dispute Likely

If Men Do Not Accede, Controversy Will Be Taken to Railroad Labor Board

New York, Nov. 10.—Immediate action will be taken to secure reductions in the wages of train and yard service employees, approximately ten per cent on all lines north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers and east of the Mississippi, it was announced today following a meeting of presidents of the lines involved.

Reductions, according to L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, will be in line with the decision reached by the railroad executives in Chicago on October 11. The wage cuts will affect approximately one million men.

The executive committee of the Association of Railway Executives will go to Washington Saturday. It was announced, to confer with members of the Interstate Commerce commission regarding the best means of bringing about a reduction in freight rates.

The railroad executives announced that when the ten per cent additional wage reduction first was proposed they intended to pass the decreased cost of operation along to the public by rate cuts.

Mr. Loree said the posting of wage reduction notices will be done by the various roads as individual organizations, but, he added, it was anticipated that it would be done by all within the week.

Technical Dispute Likely.

This action, it was stated, is expected to create a technical dispute or controversy with the employees, the notices stating the cut will be effective 30 days from date of posting. If the men do not accede, the matter will then be carried to the Railroad Labor board with a request for an early hearing. In preparation for the anticipated hearing, statisticians of the Association of Railway Executives are now engaged in working out detailed statements as to cost of living and prevailing wages.

Similar action to that taken by the rail presidents here today, will soon be taken by the southern and western railroads, one of the executives said.

Detailed figures as to actual number of employees who would be affected, but that even were not available, but there are said to be approximately 700,000 in the west and 300,000 in the south. Since July 1, it was said, between 80,000 and 90,000 employees have been added to the various lines.

Labor Board Crowded Now.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—If the application for a reduction in the wages of train and yard service employees on eastern roads is placed before the United States Railroad Labor board, it probably would not be considered for some time, it was indicated today at the board's office when members were informed by The Associated Press of the intention of such roads to seek a ten per cent reduction.

The board's decision not to consider further wage reductions for any class of employees until disputes involving working rules and agreements for that class have been settled, will be followed, board members said, and they asserted there were 40 or 50 such cases pending for train and yard service men.

ARMY DELEGATES LAY ASIDE DUTIES UNTIL TOMORROW

Washington, Nov. 10.—The great powers complicated their preparations today for the conference on limitation of armaments. Tonight, their representatives, laying by the role of negotiators, set aside as a period of mourning for America's soldier dead the hours remaining before the conference assemblies on Saturday.

The last of the major delegations was completed by the day's arrivals, which included Arthur J. Balfour, head of the British group until the coming of Premier Lloyd George, and additional delegates from New Zealand, Australia and Italy.

Only the delegation from Portugal, which is to arrive tomorrow, was missing tonight from the roll of those who will face each other about the conference table when President Harding makes the opening address on Saturday.

Delegates of the British empire approach the armament and Far Eastern conference "in a spirit of confidence and high resolve," Mr. Balfour declared tonight.

"We must not indeed either ask for or expect the impossible, although what is within our reach is worth our utmost efforts," said Mr. Balfour in a formal statement. "I cannot doubt that under the wise guidance of your President we shall be fortunate enough to attain it. * * * I am convinced that all those who are going to meet here in common counsel and the governments whom they represent, are resolved to the best of their ability to cooperate with him in making it a success. This is the world's desire. It will not fail of accomplishment."

King George Hopeful.

London, Nov. 10.—The earnest hope that the work of the coming armament conference in Washington will be rewarded by success was expressed by King George in the speech from the throne proroguing parliament today.

"I have followed with great interest the steps taken by the President of the United States to promote the reduction of expenditures on armaments—an object which commands the fullest sympathy of my government," said the King in his speech. "It was in this spirit that my government gladly accepted the invitation extended by the United States to the conference on disarmament to be held in Washington. It is my earnest hope that the labors of the conference will be crowned with success."

MISSOURI SOLDIER BONUS AWAITS GOVERNOR'S O. K.

Jefferson City, Nov. 10.—The Missouri house of representatives today passed the soldier bonus bill. The measure, which has passed the senate, goes to Governor Hyde tomorrow for signature. It makes available $15,000,000 in bonds to cover cash payments to veterans.

FIRE BREAKS OUT IN SUBMARINE FAR BENEATH SURFACE

Los Angeles, Nov. 10.—Fire broke out in the forward compartment of the submarine L-6 today while the craft was ten fathoms below the surface of the sea on a test run from San Diego to Los Angeles and 15 miles from the latter. Six members of the crew and the commander, Lieutenant M. V. Stonestreet, were either seriously burned or overcome by smoke and gas.

Other naval vessels hurried to the scene as the submarine entered San Pedro harbor, the port of Los Angeles, but she continued with unchecked speed until the submarine base had been reached. The sailors, with gas helmets, went into the hold and carried out the injured. They were taken to the naval base hospital for treatment.

The three men most seriously burned are: M. W. Hunter, electrician second class; R. J. Weir, electrician second class and Chief Electrician F. McGowan. The other three less burned are Gunner G. W. Raymond, Seaman C. A. Burgard and Chief Torpedoman G. A. Topping.

The L-6 had been out for 48 hours on a 65-hour full power and endurance test from San Diego to Los Angeles when the accident occurred.

TAX BILL TO CONFERENCE

House Republicans Decide to Take
Vote on 50 Per Cent Income Surtax Rate.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The house sent the tax revision bill to conference today without instructions to its managers on any of the 33 senate amendments, but with the promise of Republican leaders that opportunity would be given later for a vote on acceptance of the 50 per cent maximum income surtax rate.

The Democrats waged a short but ineffectual fight to force an immediate vote on acceptance of the senate amendment. Representative Garrett of Tennessee, the minority leader, offering a resolution instructing the house managers to accept the 50 per cent rate. The move apparently caught the majority leaders unawares, but after a sharp debate, Representative Mondell countered with a motion to lay the resolution on the table. This motion prevailed, 200 to 133.

"Insurgent" Republicans favoring the 50 per cent rate over the house maximum of 33 per cent split on the motion to table. Twenty-five of them voted against, while one Democrat, Campbell of Pennsylvania, voted for the motion.

STATEMENT APPEARS TO CLEAR ARBUCKLE

Rappe Girl Said to Have Told Defective Actor Was Not Responsible For Her Injuries

San Francisco, Nov. 10.—A sworn statement by George Glennon, house detective of the Hotel St. Francis, which purports to clear Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle of criminal responsibility for the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, is in the hands of District Attorney Brady. Gavin McNab, chief counsel for Arbuckle, declared today.

Mr. Brady admitted having taken a statement from Glennon several weeks ago, but said that he had so many other matters to attend to that he did not remember the nature of its contents.

The statement was of the question and answer type, according to the defense. The detective asked the girl if the hotel where she sustained her injuries was responsible for her hurt in any way, and she replied: "No."

"Did Arbuckle hurt you?" she was asked by Glennon, according to the defense statement.

"No."

"Do you know I may have been hurt by falling off the bed?" she replied, according to Arbuckle's counsel.

McNab said he was advised that the statement was made in the girl's room at the St. Francis immediately after the party in Arbuckle's suite there, in which she was alleged to have received her fatal injuries and that she was "suffering no pain and had a perfectly clear head" when she made it.

"Arbuckle is to go on trial on Monday, on charge of manslaughter, growing out of Miss Rappe's death."

POULTRY GROWERS URGE PROTECTION

American Hen Cannot Compete
With Foreign Sister—Bill to Extend Emergency Tariff Passed

Washington, Nov. 10.—Congressional action was completed today on the bill to extend the life of the emergency tariff until permanent tariff legislation is enacted, which the senate passed last week. The bill, which extends the emergency tariff on poultry from livestock and poultry growers.

Final action on the bill to extend the emergency act, which otherwise would expire by limitation November 21, was consummated of the house in amendments added by the senate. The senate amendments were accepted, 232 to 23, most of the opposition votes being cast by Democrats.

The poultry growers, through the American Poultry association, told the senate committee that the American hen could not compete with her foreign sister under rates on eggs as contained in the Fordney bill, passed by the house. They asked a duty of eight cents a dozen on eggs instead of the six cent rate of the Fordney bill.

The requirements of the cattle men, as submitted by Judge Samuel Cowan of Fort Worth, representing the American National Livestock association, are for a 20 per cent ad valorem duty on hides and an equal rate on tallow, and preserved meats, but with the provision that the 20 per cent rate on meats should not mean less than four cents a pound.

On the meat animals, the association asked that a basic duty of 20 per cent be established rather than on a per head basis, with a specific duty as provided by the house.

Mr. Cowan contended, as did representatives of the Kansas Livestock association and the Texas Cattle Raisers' association, that present tariff laws permitted control of the American cattle markets to rest in foreign countries, which, by periodic shipment, would overturn prices that otherwise would be more or less stable.

MARINES ON DUTY AS MAIL GUARDS

Sea Soldiers Posted at Trains,
Post Office Branches and Trucks

New York, Nov. 10.—A company of 61 United States Marines, the guard of a force of 250, reported to Postmaster General Hays plan to prevent incidents such as the two million dollar mail truck robbery in Broadway last month.

The sea soldiers, serving under the orders of their own officers, were being posted tonight at mail trains being loaded or unloaded, at postoffice branches, and on trucks carrying valuable mail.

In addition to the marine guards who will ride with drivers and inside the trucks carrying registered mail, each van will have a motorcycle escort.

Nation-wide distribution of 50,000 circulars describing the stolen securities was begun today from the local postoffice. The list fills four large pages with double-column type. The missing securities were said now to be estimated as worth about two million dollars in stock certificates, bonds and notes.

The circulars identified the hold-up as "Case No. 48,856-D," and repeated the $20,000 offer for information leading to conviction of the bandits, $5,000 each for the four.

CABINET DISCUSSES IRISH SITUATION

Extreme Gravity of Business Details Ministers Long; Craig
Firm for Ulster's Rights

By The Associated Press.)

London, Nov. 10.—The full cabinet council, held tonight for the purpose of discussing the Irish situation, was such a long one that several of the ministers were forced to cancel engagements elsewhere and apologize for the extreme gravity of the business detaining them.

It is understood that the government's written statement on the proposals dealing with Ulster reached Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, at a late hour, and will be debated at a meeting of the Ulster ministers tomorrow morning.

It is believed that at meeting between Mr. Lloyd George and the Ulster ministers cannot be held before Monday.

The king, in his speech proroguing parliament tonight, made another appeal, similar to that which he addressed to the people in opening the northern parliament of Ireland, to exercise patience and moderation with the object of establishing friendship and cooperation between "my people of that country."

This was particularly addressed to the Ulsterites, who are now in London considering the government's proposals for the settlement of the century-old problem, in the opinion of the politicians. But all sections come within His Majesty's exhortation, and it is pointed out, the Sinn Fein may read it with particular interest and may object to the inference that the dispute is between the two parties in Ireland and is not a dispute between England and Ireland, which is the Sinn Fein's contention.

A statement issued after this morning's meeting of the Ulster cabinet members concluded as follows:

"Sir James Craig on behalf of the cabinet of northern Ireland wishes to clearly understand that there can be no surrender of Ulster's rights."

MISS FARRAR OPENS SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Counsel for Her and Lou Tellegen
Appear to Argue Certain Allegations

New York, Nov. 10.—The divorce action threatened last September by Geraldine Farrar, grand opera singer, against Lou Tellegen, her actor husband, actually has been instituted. It was learned today through proceedings before Supreme Court Justice C. J. Van Dusen.

Counsel for Miss Farrar and her husband appeared before Justice Guy to argue Miss Farrar's claims that certain allegations in the nature of a counter claim for separation be stricken from Mr. Tellegen's answer to her action. These allegations, referring to cruelty on the part of Miss Farrar, were ordered stricken from the document.

Miss Farrar and her husband already are parties to a suit for separation, begun last August in Westchester county by Tellegen. He asserted his wife had deserted him and that her conduct for several months preceding her alleged desertion amounted to cruelty within the legal meaning of the term.

The divorce action, it was said, was begun in this city two weeks ago. The summons and complaint were served on Mr. Tellegen last Saturday and he readily submitted to a divorce, over which today's argument of counsel developed. In his answer, Mr. Tellegen named the same state of facts as obtained in his suit for separation and asked that the divorce be refused and a separation granted instead.

In his suit for separation, Mr. Tellegen alleged that his wife treated him with cruelty and refused to live with him. Nature of the charges made by Miss Farrar in the divorce suit was not made public.

Mr. Tellegen, who is involved in this divorce suit, recently appeared in Oneonta as the star of his play, "Blind Youth."

FOCH, IN PILLSBURY, AWAY FROM HIS SET PROGRAM

Pittsburgh, Nov. 10.—Marshal Foch, who today was the guest of Pittsburgh, broke away from the program as laid down for him, and in three places expressed his appreciation for the cordial welcome he had received.

"After all the horrors of war," he said before a great audience in Carnegie Music hall, "it is particularly gratifying for me to be in this center of manufacture, art and science, to see those things which we have, in taken up in the interest of civilization, I congratulate you on being present among the arts and sciences and the progress which you are making in bringing forth this royal march of culture."

Later in the day he left the formal luncheon rendered him by Mayor Hubcock and the city council, and entered a room at the Grand Hotel where a party of Pittsburgh newspaper men were at tables, expressed his pleasure for their invitation to meet with them.

JOHNNY BUFF HOLDS BANTAMWEIGHT BELT

Starts Winning Offensive in Twelfth
Round and Turns T

Johnny Buff, bantamweight boxing champion, retained his title tonight by obtaining a judges' decision over Jack Sharkey of New York at the end of the five-round bout in Madison Square Garden.

Beaten in a number of the earlier rounds, Buff started a winning offensive in the twelfth round and, by the power of his hitting, turned the tide against the Italian-American. Buff opened the fight with a rush but Sharkey's well-placed blows slowed him up for a while. He was staggered by Sharkey's blows on numerous occasions, but recuperated quickly.

Sharkey had the better of five rounds, six went to Buff, and four were even. Buff weighed 114 pounds and Sharkey 116 1/2.

—In case of inclement weather the Armistice Day observance will be held in the armory instead of at Huntington park.

—On account of Friday being a legal holiday, both banks will be open from 3 until 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon of this week for the cashing of D. & H. checks only.

—An exhibition game between the Co. G basketball team and the Oneonta Wanderers, which was postponed this week, will be played next Monday night at the armory.

—The blowing of locomotive whistles at midnight ushered in Armistice Day. Shortly afterwards huge bonfires were lighted at the intersection of Main with Broad and Chestnut streets and the blowing of tin horns began a celebration reminiscent of that of three years ago. A goodly number of people turned out of their beds to take part or to witness the celebration.

—President Harding's speech will be read at the ceremonies at Huntington park today simultaneously with its delivery at Arlington cemetery through the courtesy of The Associated Press, which, at a request from the White House, has permitted its members to release the advance copies of the speech to American Legion posts at noon that they may be read at Armistice Day observances.

ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVANCE

Very Impressive Exercises At The Normal School In Honor Of The Day.

The greatest single event in our generation is observed in Armistice Day. When the word was flashed from the battle-front that the fighting had ceased, the heart of the world was filled with ineffable joy. Hope succeeded despair; life no longer went face to face with death; mankind once more moved in the paths of peace. We will in America to keep alive the emotions of that memorial day, but we should also remember that the Great War was not an accident of history but an inevitable struggle between imperialism and democracy.

The program that was rendered at the Normal school yesterday afternoon in observance of Armistice Day emphasized these truths. The significance of the day, America's part in the war, the menace of imperialism, the purpose of democracy and the transcendent lessons of patriotism were all clearly expounded and ably presented by the speakers of the afternoon. Each and all earnestly and confidently "carried on."

The program with "The Star Spangled Banner," it ended with "America," these are the Alpha and Omega of our national life.

TO THE GLORIOUS DEAD

ONEONTA BOWS ITS HEAD IN SILENT TRIBUTE TO THOSE WHO DIED FOR THEIR COUNTRY.

The Day One of Grateful and Solemn Memory—Cereemonies at Huntington Park by the American Legion Will Feature Observance of Armistice Day—Will Be Synchronous With Burial of Unknown Soldier at Arlington.

Three years ago today, in the chilly hours of the morning, the citizens of Oneonta were called from their slumbers to take part in a celebration of the signing of the armistice ending hostilities in the great war which will long remain in their memories. Noise was a principal feature of that occasion of rejoicing. The feeling was of relief and of intense gratification that Germany had capitulated. We were too close to the struggle fully to realize its full significance and the sacrifices involved.

The observance of the anniversary this year will be of a more quiet and solemn character. The American people have now a better perspective; the vast importance of that day is more fully realized and the sacrifice involved in the glorious victory won is more keenly felt. And then the day takes on an added significance from the burial of the unknown soldier at Arlington cemetery—the nation's tribute to its known and unknown warriors who made the supreme sacrifice. The opening of the disarmament conference at Washington also makes the day of supreme importance.

The principal feature of today's observance will be the public ceremonies to be conducted in Huntington park by the American Legion. They will constitute a tribute of love and memory to the soldier dead from their former comrades in service and the grateful citizens of Oneonta.

The Legion will meet at the state armory at 11:45 and escorted by Company G, Company G band, the Spanish-American war veterans, the school children, the Boy Scouts and other organizations, will march to Huntington park, where the following program will be rendered:

11:45 Opening address by Post Commander A. L. Bergan.
Star Spangled Banner by Company G band.
Invocation by Post Chaplain Rev. Frank L. Coughley.
11:55 "Attention" blown by bugler.
12-12:05 Period of silence.
Commitment Service by post chaplain Volney by firing squad and "Taps."
Battle Hymn of the Republic, sung by the assemblage.
President Harding's speech at Arlington, read by Dr. J. C. Smith.
Benediction by the post chaplain.

During the two-minute period of silence, which will be observed while the body of the unknown soldier is being lowered into the grave at Arlington cemetery, business will be at a standstill throughout the city, as well as throughout the nation. Telegraph service will cease and telephone operators will sit at their switchboards with heads bowed in silent reverence. It is requested that traffic stop on the streets and that pedestrians halt and stand with bowed heads. The church bells, which will have been tolling since 11:45, will be quieted at noon.

The observance will be proof of the faithfulness of the statement that the ingratitude of republics is proverbial. The nation bows in grateful memory the deeds and sacrifices of its defenders. That Oneonta shares that gratitude will be proved today. Let every citizen do his bit.

Open House at Woman's Club.

Open house was observed at the Woman's club yesterday afternoon, the program which had been arranged proving of great interest to the large number of members who were in attendance. Mrs. Elizabeth Black gave a review of several current magazines which was of interest and instruction to all and Mrs. C. W. Augustin, in an informal conversational manner, gave an account of her trip to France last summer and told of the many changes which had taken place since her last visit to that country. Her talk was followed with the closest attention and was intensely interesting and enlightening. Tea was served by Mrs. Julian C. Smith, Mrs. Joseph S. Lunn and Mrs. Frank A. Herlioff.

American Legion Ball Tonight.

American legion members, as well as many others, are eagerly awaiting the opening strains of Pages Big Six Cornet orchestra, which will start off the annual post ball at the armory this evening. The committee has been working for weeks on the preparations and announces that all is in readiness for the big event. The music will be fine, the decorations unusual, and the buffet luncheon of rare quality. The affair will be informal, but Legionnaires are requested to wear their uniforms. "Commence string will sound at 9 o'clock and then—Oh Boy. You'll miss the best dance of the season if you fail to be there.

Sleeping in Barns.

In recent cold weather tramps and men out of a job have cut out sleeping in barns and are plentifully applying at police headquarters for lodging. It is an eye opener, as for past years of good times and high wages, I have given them a safe chance to chuck away 25 cents each day, place with me and have $2,000.00 with which to get a home or farm. Well I'm still on the job; am thus far rolling up four million dollars more and if the poor chumps want see a hole in a ladder, they must take their medicine. Yes, and there are a lot of other chumps who had better let me get some pep into them or they'll be hunting for a place to sleep. Good day. I'm the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. adv 1t

BRIEF COUNCIL MEETING

Bills Audited -- Supervisor Disbrow Resigns--Brockes Appointed--Thousand Dollars Appropriated for Police Fund.

An adjourned meeting of the Common Council, held last evening, the resignation of S. A. Disbrow as supervisor from the second district of the city of Oneonta was received, with the request that it be at once accepted. Mr. Disbrow states that the resignation was made necessary by the fact that his recent appointment as foreman in his department renders it impossible for him to attend the sessions of the board. The resignation of Mr. Disbrow was accepted and on motion of Mr. Clark, seconded by Mr. Coy, George L. Brockes esq. was named as his successor. Mr. Brockes is the supervisor-elect from the district, his term commencing on January 1, and the board wisely believes that he should be designated to fill the short period remaining before his elective term begins.

The city election returns were canvassed by the board, the figures being practically the same as those in the Star of Wednesday morning. Bills were then audited, the more important being that of the Oneonta Water Works company and those for expenses of the recent election. The bills for personal services in connection with the election were about $2,350, and in addition there is rent of polling places and minor expenses. On request of the police department, the sum of $1,000 was appropriated from the general fund to make good any lack in funds for the balance of the year. The sum of $400, received for old hose and paid to the general fund, was on motion credited to the fire department.

A request from the police department for authority to increase the salary of the first sergeant of police to $125 per month was referred to the regular committee to report.

The invitation of the American Legion to attend the exercises of Armistice day, marching in the parade, was received and accepted.

The next regular meeting of the Council will be held next Tuesday evening.

To the American Legion.

Today is one of special significance for all members of the American Legion. It is Armistice day and furthermore it is the day on which our buddy, the unknown American soldier, will receive the homage of a grateful republic. That Oneonta may do her share, public services will be held by the American legion at Huntington park, commencing at 11:45. The legion will meet at the State armory at 11:15. It is requested that every member of the post aid in this observance. If your uniform is serviceable, wear it, but do not fail to come because you haven't a uniform. Personal considerations should not prevent your attendance. You owe it to the legion and to the memory of the buddies who gloriously died for their country to take part in these ceremonies. We did our duty "over there," let's do it "over here." Be at the armory at 11:15. A. L. Bergan, Post Commander.

Y. M. C. A. Alleys Open.

The Y. M. C. A. bowling alleys will be open at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The tournament between the Dodgers and the Cub "will be rolled at 4 o'clock because of American Legion ball at the armory in the evening. A box of candy will be given for high score in the afternoon and also in the evening. Scores in the match games will not be counted.

Spanish War Veterans Attention!

All Spanish War Veterans are requested to meet at the armory today at 11:15 a. m. to take part in Armistice day parade. R. H. Westcott, Com. adv 1t

ASSEMBLYMAN J. C. SMITH

Chairman of Committee to Entertain Distinguished Speakers at State Dairyman's Convention.

Dr. Julian C. Smith has been appointed by President Owen C. Becker of the Chamber of Commerce as chairman of a committee to attend to the proper entertainment of the distinguished speakers who are coming to Oneonta next week to address the 45th annual convention of the New York state Dairyman's association. The committee will likewise be charged with providing proper hospitality for the 500 visiting dairymen expected, and in other ways assisting the association officials in making their meeting a success.

The other members of this committee will be announced by Mr. Becker in a few days. A meeting will probably be called for Tuesday morning at the Chamber of Commerce offices to meet with Secretary Thomas E. Thoun of the association and lay their final plans.

Speaker H. Edmund Machold of the State assembly, three state commissioners of agriculture, and a number of other noted agriculturists and prominent speakers will address the various sessions of the convention. The opening session on Wednesday evening will be Oneonta's particular night to join with the dairymen in seeing the exhibits to be set in the armory and hearing the addresses.

A number of reservations have already been made at the Chamber of Commerce offices by local citizens who wish tickets for the association's banquet to be held at 7 o'clock Thursday evening at the Hotel Oneonta. Speaker Machold will address this gathering, together with Judge A. L. Kellogg, Dr. Edmund H. Porter, Dean H. E. Cook and Charles H. Tuck of New York city. Mr. Tuck's address on "The Little Brown Boy," describing conditions in the Far East from which he recently returned, will be quite different from the other speeches listed and his magazine and newspaper writings on the same subject give promise to an exceedingly entertaining talk, to be coupled with the interesting addresses expected from Mr. Machold, Judge Kellogg, and the agriculturists. Fifty banquet tickets have been set aside for Oneontians, a request of the Chamber of Commerce, and it is quite likely that these will be soon reserved because of the impressive toast list.

Telephone Co. Observes Armistice.

The Otsego & Delaware Telephone company have notified their employees to the effect that today, Friday, November 11, will be observed as a legal holiday, throughout the company's territory.

Commercial offices will be open only as deemed necessary by local managers.

Plant department employees, will not work except as necessary for maintenance.

Traffic employees on duty will answer no calls between 12 o'clock noon and two minutes past that hour (12:02 p. m.) but sit with bowed heads in silent tribute to the memory of the soldier dead.

Attention, Boy Scouts.

Troops two and four of Boy Scouts will meet at 10 o'clock this morning at scout headquarters. Scoutmaster Delamater and Caughy request that every boy be present, as the Scouts are to participate in the ceremonies of tribute to the nation's hero dead. Scouts can do no better deed today than to join in the observance, so don't fail to report at 10 o'clock.

Howland Lesson No 3

To Prospective Piano and Player Buyers
Bargain Hunters in the Piano Line
Often Get Stuck

because the so-called bargains are in many instances not bargains at all.

Wearing apparel you may buy every few months or yearly. A good piano or player-piano you only buy once in a lifetime.

Why then be particular about spending a few dollars more or less? If you buy the right kind of instrument, you will be put to the expense only once and you will have something which will give satisfaction and enjoyment, to say nothing about the saving for tuning and repairs.

HOWLAND handles a line of first-class instruments, among which are the TONK and the McCAMMON Pianos.

Here is what a prominent song-writer and pianist says of the Tonk Product.

"I have had occasion to play upon and thoroughly test the "Tonk instruments." I find them to possess splendid tone qualities, the touch elastic and responsive and the interior as well as the casework constructed with great care. In my opinion, these instruments are well suited not only for use in the drawing-room, but also for professional work.

Very truly,
Pete Wendling."

Her Husband Sues Dempsey

H. E. PALMER

New York, Nov. 10.—Complaint in the $250,000 allegation suit of Albert Sigal against J. C. Dempsey, heavy weight champion, was filed today. Dempsey's demand of the charge was submitted last week in advance of the complaint.

Sigal's complaint said he and his wife, a dancer, were married last March at Davenport, Iowa. Last September 12, Dempsey, who had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Church on Church street for several days, returned home Thursday.

Frederick B. Orr of South Side left Wednesday for Detroit, Mich., where he will enter the Michigan State Auto school for a complete course in automobile mechanics.

Mrs. J. C. Brown of Middlefield was in Oneonta yesterday on her way to Chicago, Ill., where for several days she will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Buchanan.

Mrs. Ruth Schenck, who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. Clara Wilson, of Oneonta, left yesterday morning for Williamsport, Pa., where she expects to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller of East Windsor, N. J., were in Oneonta yesterday on their way to visit with their son, William Miller, who is the American Express agent in Kingston.

Mrs. Charles Wilson of 63 Miller street was in Albany yesterday to meet her mother, Mrs. Chester Wilson, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. The latter accompanied her home and will be her guest for some time.

Mrs. and Mrs. Owen C. Becker left yesterday for a few days' sojourn in New York city, the former for the purpose of attending a conference of city attorneys relative to a hearing on the writ of certiorari lately issued on motion of certain New York banks relative to the present one per cent stock and surplus tax.

DELAWARE IS REPUBLICAN

Democrats Lose One Seat on Board of Supervisors as Result of Election—Amendments One and Two Defeated in County.

Delhi, Nov. 10.—Judge Andrews received a majority of 5418 over Justice Scudder in Delaware county. All the election commissioners have not yet completed the tabulation of the vote on the amendments. From work already done on the tabulation it is evident that a majority of the voters voted "no" on Amendment No. 1 and also on No. 2. In the town elections the Democrats gained one seat and lost two on the board of supervisors as compared with two years ago, the board standing 14 Republicans and 8 Democrats. Marshall E. Arbuckle, the Republican candidate for sheriff, was elected by 1155 majority, attained after a well organized fight was made against him. Hon. Lincoln H. Long, the Republican candidate for member of the assembly, had no opposition and was elected for his fourth term.

IN CONTEMPT OF COURT

Herbert J. Murphy Must Pay Fine or Go to Jail for Failure to Appear in Court—Judgment Rendered Against Him.

The efforts of Herbert J. Murphy to avoid payment of the judgment rendered against him some time ago in which he was directed by the court to pay to Fred and Lena Crandall a stipulated sum for the death of their son, George Crandall, who was bitten by Murphy's dog last year, have again gotten him into trouble. Murphy claimed to be bankrupt and in supplementary proceedings before George L. Wohlleben as referee he testified that he had no property. With a week he withdrew funds from his account with the Oneonta Building and Loan association in violation of the restraining order issued by Supreme Court Justice A. L. Kellogg.

Murphy now finds himself served with another order, issued yesterday by Justice Kellogg, directing him to pay a $200 fine to the Crandalls, or their attorney, or stand committed to jail for contempt of court. George L. Wohlleben appeared as attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Crandall and Claude V. Smith for Murphy.

REST ROOM IN ONEONTA

Over One Hundred Each Day Use Facilities at Public Rest Station.

Nearly 5,000 persons have used the facilities of the Public Rest room during the 47 days since its opening on September 15 to November 8, according to a report submitted to the Public Comfort Station committee of the Chamber of Commerce by Mrs. Maude Cross, matron in charge.

A daily average of 75 women, 12 men, and 12 children are being cared for by the comforts made available for them by Oneonta's leading merchants and business men, through the Chamber of Commerce, according to the report. The majority of those using the facilities are out-of-town shoppers, although a number of local men and women have also visited the rest room at various times.

The attendance figures show that 3,502 women, 945 men and 502 children have visited the rest room to rest or read in the waiting room, use the toilet facilities, or check parcels. A couch in the waiting room for women, a public telephone booth, a drinking fountain and a reading table are among the conveniences provided at the comfort station in the Salvation Army building through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce committee.

In order to have a rest room worthy of Oneonta, the committee found it necessary to expend nearly $1,100 for carpentry work plumbing wiring and other items required to fit out the place, and the attractive comforts secured as a result have more than justified the expense. Subscriptions from merchants, business and professional men have made up the fund to meet this cost, but there are a few hundred dollars yet to be raised which the committee is confident it will secure through new subscriptions and in generous contributions already made. Now that the success of the rest room has been adequately proved.

EFFECTIVE CO-OPERATION

Manufacturers' Association Names Committee to Promote Sewing Classes and Girl Club—Recreation Club Dances.

The Manufacturers' Association laid plans for co-operating in promoting sewing classes for Saturdays, afternoon sewing classes for girls being conducted at the Community House by the Women's club, and in the contemplated Girl's club, at a meeting of the association last evening at the Chamber of Commerce offices. President A. C. Meritt appointed Earl G. Phelan and William R. Walcott as a committee to confer with those in charge as to means through which the association can lend its support to these worthy activities.

A balance in the Recreation Club Dance fund, which accrued in small amounts from the dances conducted weekly last year, is being kept intact by the association with the view of supporting commendable enterprises such as are conducted by various organizations in the Community House. The committee appointed is expected to recommend putting a fund at the disposal of some such activity as mentioned or assist in the work by providing additional tables and chairs needed at the Community House when large sewing classes or other meetings of girls are held.

To correct a misunderstanding in the minds of some citizens, according to a report circulated during the Community Chest campaign, President Meritt issued a statement at the meeting of the Recreation Club dances held at the High school are neither a profitable nor a losing proposition for any organization. The small admission fee charged is fixed to meet expenses, and in previous years where a deficit has been incurred, the deficit was covered by contributions of individual members of the Manufacturers' Association.

Last year, because of the growing popularity of the dances, a balance accrued, although insufficient to warrant lowering the admission fee. This balance is being kept as a separate fund and the money will be donated for some worthy community work, which will be the opinion of the association. In the opinion of the association, the dances are good and at the same time be of benefit to the young women and men who attend the dances.

While the Manufacturers' association is solely financially responsible for any deficit which may be incurred at the dances the conduct of the dances is carried on in cooperation with the Otsego Social W. M. Association, whose officers and committees have aided greatly in making the dances successful, and also with a committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

All concerns included in the association membership close their plants today in observance of Armistice day, and in honor of the unknown soldier here.

STAR DESIGNS OWN PROCKS.

Gudrun Walberg, Playing Lead in "Some Girl," an Artistic Genius.

Gudrun Walberg, pictured in this issue, has been for only four short years one of the familiar names in the annals of what are called the "somebodies" of musical comedy theatre, yet her name now comes ringing from the tongue, at or near the top, of any spoken list of singing, dancing comedienne of present renown. LeCompte and Fletcher's intoxicating musical fantasy, "Some Girl," in the title role of which Miss Walberg appeared at the Oneonta theatre last Tuesday evening may be partly responsible for this dainty actress' happy status for the moment, but it is so, a fact is no less apparent to her audience this season that "Some Girl" or any other synonymously named "girl needing artistic stage interpretation would gain distinct advantage with the services of this mackerel-tongued dynamo of joy.

Attributes, credited to Miss Walberg by her professional reviewers naturally encompasses but her state performance and these, perhaps, are of greatest interest to her public, but aside from them her artistic genius turns for further outlet and in devious ways, from and for the stage. Proficient in oils, she has given much of her time to painting, marines are her finest inspirations and many of her excellent canvases are treasured by chosen friends.

Dress designing is another forte, in fact it is that in which she excels—and her marked creative talents are never more inspiringly employed than when planning a snappy walking costume, a fashionable evening frock or a colorful show gown for the stage. All her show gowns for the stage, and her own costumes—and it will be noted on her forthcoming local appearance they are of unusually striking effectiveness—were fashioned from her designs and in the course of the play she displays no less than twelve of these delectable creations. See display ad on page two of this issue.

TWO EQUITY CASES HEARD

Justice Theodore R. Tutbill Holds Adjourned Term of Supreme Court at Chambers in This City.

But two cases were heard at the adjourned term of supreme court held for equity cases only at the court chambers in this city by Justice Theodore R. Tutbill yesterday. Decision was reserved in both.

The first case on the calendar was that of Friery vs. the D. & H. company, an action for damages and an injunction. The case was carried over from Wednesday. A water channel on the property of the plaintiff interfered with the railroad tracks and the D. & H. company had changed its course. Friery alleged that the change resulted in flooding his lands and asked for damages and specific relief. After hearing evidence and visiting the locality, Justice Tutbill announced that he would reserve decision. Second & Seybolt appeared for the plaintiff and S. P. Willis of Cooperstown for the D. & H. company.

The other case was that of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Being vs. Angelo Ross, an action arising over the erection by the plaintiff of a so-called "spirit house." Ross has a store at the corner of Main and Fairview streets and the Beings are in business on Fairview street on the lot adjoining. It is claimed by the plaintiffs that Ross erected a house on the back of his lot for the purpose of injuring their business by preventing the store being seen from Main street. They seek damages and relief. The case involves a close question of law. After Justice Tutbill had viewed the premises he reserved decision. George L. Boeckes appeared for the plaintiff and Claude L. Smith for the defendant. The decisions in both cases will be rendered at the supreme court chambers in Binghamton, after the minutes have been written out and briefs submitted.

EACH HAS PLACE IN LODGE

According to Custom, the Occupants of Indian Tepees Have Their Allotted Space.

As there are six different ways of holding camp fires, it should be explained that my friends built theirs according to the Ojibway custom; that is, in the so-called "lodge fashion," by placing the sticks upright, leaning them together, and crossing them over one another in the manner of lodge poles. When the fire was lighted, the wind-shields formed a perfect draft to carry the smoke up through the permanently open flue in the apex of the structure, and one soon realized that all tents or dwellings, no healthier abode was ever contrived by man. Indeed, if the stupid, meddlesome agents of civilization had been wise enough to have left the Indians in their tepees, instead of forcing them to live in houses—the ventilation of which was never understood—they would have been spared at least one of civilization's diseases—tuberculosis—and many more tribesmen would have been alive today.

On entering an Indian tepee one usually finds the first space on the right of the doorway occupied by the woodpile; the next by the wife; the third, by the baby, and the fourth by the husband. Opposite these, on the other side of the fire, the older children are ranged. To the visitor is allotted the warmest place in the lodge, the place of honor, farthest from and directly opposite the doorway. When the dogs are allowed in the tepee, they know their place to be the first space on the left, between the entrance and the children—Arthur Hoping in World's Work.

American Indians' Origin Unknown.
No definite solution has been found in regard to the origin of the American Indian. Anatomically, the Indian bears a striking resemblance to the Mongolian. Therefore it is reasonable to believe that his ancestors originally crossed from Asia to North America. The period of this migration cannot be calculated accurately. It is believed, however, that man has existed in America at least 25,000 years and not more than 200,000 years.

Suffers Serious Break Down

"Two years ago I spent three months in hospital under stomach and bowel specialists for ulcers, colitis, and indigestion, etc., which ended with shooting and colic attacks. My friends gave me up. I returned home and on the advice of Mrs. Wright, a friend of Mrs. Woodford, removed with wonderful results. Am now in best of health. It is a simple, harmless preparation that cures the catarrhal ulcers from the latest tract and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments and other appendages. One dose will relieve all money refunded. Distributors everywhere. advt.
